

THANKSGIVING 2010

it's not a bad idea
one weekend per year
giving thanks

gladly accepting this opportunity

i thank my mother
for her endless love

i thank my father
for all the beauty he left

i thank heaven & earth
to be their child

i thank the great spirit i've come to my senses

i thank all my miraculous friends girls and boys
who travel with me
through space & time

i thank my late black tom cat muckl for he taught me unconditional love i thank my inherited innocence for into the vastness of experience it guided me i thank the ability to be grateful for every little detail in life i thank my ups and downs they never tire to awaken me i thank love itself for i am beloved & loving

i thank all my teachers professional a/o wise ones

i am thankful
that there is peace
where i am

i am with peace
and thankful for that too

i thank my lovers
all of them
wherever they dwell

i thank that blink in time that i can be here

i thank all happy spirits of all possible dimensions

i am thankful beyond words for the friendships
i'm privileged to share

i give thanks to the challenges that manifest in front of me for i expand through them i give thanks to the optimism that rests unflappable

in my tamed wild nature

i thank my wild nature to allow me to let go of my fears

i thank the sky
that i so much love to kiss

i thank each rainbow for it's essence of colors

i thank the muses for their kisses they don't seem to care that i'm actually a girl i thank all the children who unfold into caring human beings i am grateful for the voices within me i accept the gift that they have chosen me to be their translator & speaker i am thankful that the heaviness is lifted from my thought circles i am thankful that i have learned to love my self along the way i thank my today

for i've become friends with fair cornucopia

and while giving thanks to all & everything there is in general

i specifically thank my darling plants for sharing many years together in the moving caravan they are my actual room mates

i thank my humor
that it keeps coming back & i show my greatest admiration

i thank the ultimate life force that it has energized me up to this point & way beyond

i thank you
that you are in my life

i thank that life
for it seems to be a little bit crazy just like me

i thank sensuality
when it takes hold of me i thank this ever astonishing body that i am provided with as my home and yes of course i most certainly do thank each and every woman & man who give their hard day's work to provide food for me and us who provide food for the world

i thank the universe
for the comfort of it's imperishableness and furthermore

that it let me come up with this pretty thanksgiving list
